Why do some kids become the victims of bullying?

(A) For example, at one school, a girl became a victim because she answered a lot of questions in class, and a boy was bullied because he had an unusual hairstyle.

(B) It is common for victims to be small and physically weak; however, a very tall kid can also become a victim. Some kids become victims because they're smart and others because they're not smart.

(C) Often a bully chooses someone who is different from the other kids. This could be a child with a big nose, freckles, or red hair. Sometimes the child has an unusual accent.

When squirrels run across wires, they use their large bushy tails as a “balancing pole.” However, a squirrel’s tail has many more functions than just a balancing pole. If a squirrel falls, its tail serves as a parachute. Squirrels can fall more than 100 feet without hurting themselves. The _____ tail keeps the squirrel dry during rainstorms, and warm during cold nights, and shades the squirrel from the sun on hot days. A squirrel also uses its tail as a flag to warn other squirrels of imminent danger.
